

Position: HiWi

Java Full Stack Developer

JOB DESCRIPTION

This HiWi job is to develop, maintain and support enterprise Java applications for the organization. This Java Full Stack Developer position will have responsibilities within a service-oriented structure, including design, programming, testing, packaging, deploying and maintaining service.

GENERAL DUTIES & RESPONSIBILITIES

- Develops front end website applications
- Designs and develops APIs integrated with front end functionality and/or be consumed by other partners.
- Designs and creates data models for applications and databases to persist them.
- Ensures responsiveness of applications.
- May provide, or guide provision of technical support to applications currently in production.
- Parse webpages for necessary data

EDUCATIONAL BACKGROUND

Bachelor (or Bachelor-to-be)'s Degree in Computer Science, Information Systems or the equivalent combination of education, training, or work experience.

GENERAL KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS & ABILITIES

- Command of Java, ideally experience with Spring
- Modern Web UI framework experience, ideally with Bootstrap and Angular
- Experience with webcrawler, at least in one programming language
- Experience with agile development is a plus
- Ability to communicate well both verbally and in writing to technical and non-technical audiences of various levels within INT or outside the organization (executives, regulators, clients, etc.)