

Interested in research? We are looking for a...

Student Research Assistant (20%)

Job description: We seek a student research assistant who is interested in behavioral research and who would like to become part of a newly founded research group on Cognition and Consumer Decision Making led by Professor Benjamin Scheibehenne. Our group is part of the KIT Institute of Information System and Marketing (IISM). Among other tasks, student research assistants will support the realization of experiments, the completion of administrative tasks, the analysis of empirical data and the search and review of scientific literature.

We are looking for Bachelor students who are interested in empirical behavioral research and who are fluent in English.

Starting date: 01.09.2020

Contact: Applications including a short curriculum vitae and a copy of the transcript of the grades or diploma can be sent to yvonne.oberholzer@kit.edu. All applications submitted until the 21.07.2020 will receive full consideration.

For further information, please contact Yvonne Oberholzer.