Venture Developer / Entrepreneur in Residence (m/f)

About us:

We are Truventuro - one of Europe's most successful company builders based in Hamburg. Our passion is building high impact e-commerce marketplaces and agencies for the digital space. Our portfolio of more than 10 companies includes industry leaders such as Finanzcheck, Dreamlines or the rising star HomeToGo; all backed by high-profile VC firms such as Highland Capital Partners, Acton Capital Partners or DN Capital. As part of the Truventuro team you will work closely with the top management of our portfolio companies, help them improve their business and take ownership in developing new business ideas with us.

Your tasks:

- Work closely with the management of Truventuro and our portfolio companies on selected projects from online-marketing, over top talent recruiting to UX projects
- Support the partner group at Truventuro in developing business concepts and launching new ventures
- Manage your own projects and experience various areas of our ventures (business development, performance marketing, etc.)
- Outstanding candidates will have the opportunity to join our full-time venture development program

What you should offer:

- A Master degree with outstanding academic results (preferably with a business, science or engineering background)
- Previous work experience in a start-up, incubator/VC or consulting firm
- Highly ambitious and equipped with an entrepreneurial mindset
- A pro-active and hands-on mentality
- Fluency in English and German is mandatory; further languages are a plus
- Experienced in Microsoft Excel and Powerpoint

What we offer:

- Access to a strong network of founders, partners and VCs within the Truventuro network
- Opportunity to enter the global entrepreneurial landscape
- Steep learning curve by working with a high-performing team in an international environment
- Competitive salary
